

Four-Year Colleges & Universities Where Tempe Prep Graduates Have Been Admitted as Undergraduates

Our primary concern when helping students select colleges is to find those colleges that provide the best fit for the individual goals and objectives of each student, not to achieve admittance to the best known or most highly selective colleges. However, many different constituencies frequently want to know where TPA graduates have been admitted and where they have actually decided to attend college. Thus, the following is a list of four-year colleges where TPA students have been admitted. In addition, about 5-10% of the senior class each year chooses to start their education at a community college or to delay college and pursue work, travel, or the military. In recent years, approximately 2/3 of the students in each graduating class have applied to out-of-state colleges and approximately 1/3 of the students have chosen to attend college out-of-state. Many of the students who decide to stay in-state do so due to the scholarship opportunities they are offered.
